

THE
PIONEER
PUBLISHED BY
BEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

Pioneers are not only brave men who venture into unknown lands but they are also those who by their initiative advance with science in the march of time. We commemorate thee, Pioneers!

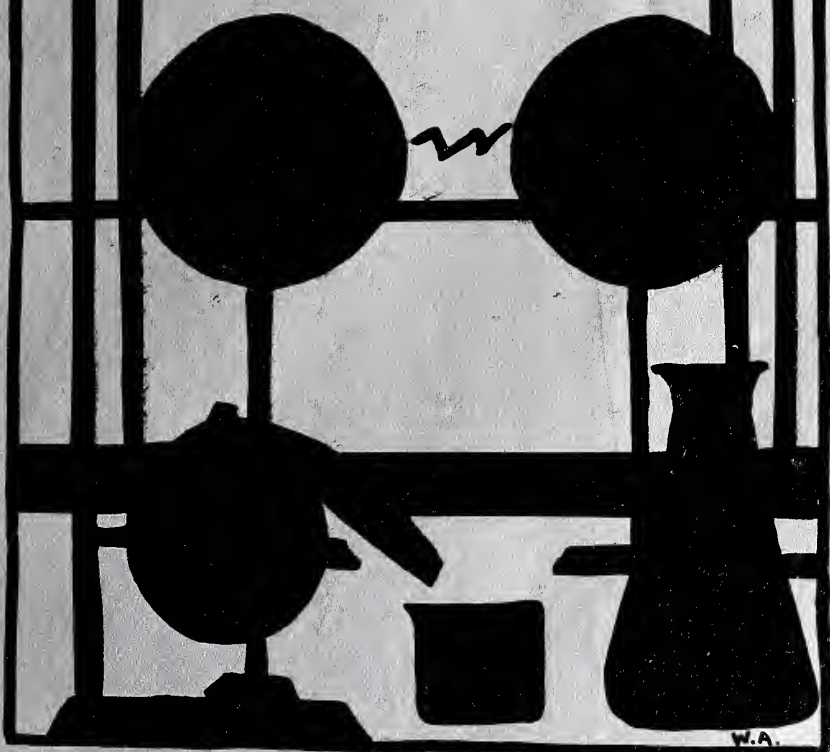

B.L.

DEDICATION

Without Pioneers there could have been no civilization and without civilization there could have been no books.

We dedicate this book to all Pioneers, whose ideals and industry guide us onward.

Class History

An then the two hundred whining Freshies with their shining morning faces (girls hadn't learned to wear make-up) still in knee pants and gingham frocks, with hair ribbons to match, afraid to move lest every move prove disastrous, stumbled up the steps of dear old B. H. S.

Feeling our significance and with utter disregard for the things about us, we dragged through that horrible year, adoring teachers and wishing we were Seniors. Embarrassment got the better of some of our tribe that year.

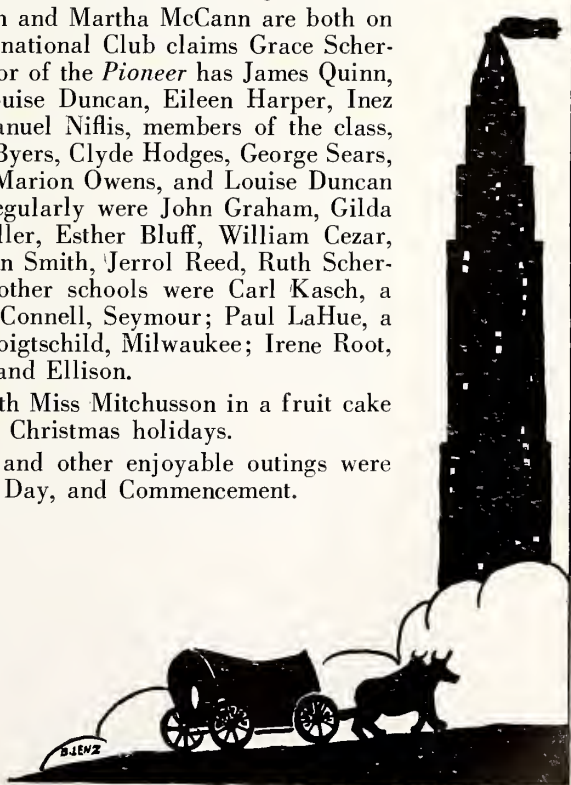

Now, when we came back for the second degree, we might be able to locate the library, roll rooms, and sometimes the office. We joined clubs, took in all the auditoriums and began to really live, although unmolested as yet by our fellowmen. Some of the old gang pushed out into the limelight. Miller, Beretta, Goodin, and Smith had already broken into varsity basketball. The wrestling team had the services of Downey, Craig, and Wilson. Goodin, Garriot, Beretta, and Turpin were Trackmen. Boys weren't all either. Gilda Liva, Ruth Davis, Alice Downey, Ruth Roberts, and others found official places, in their clubs, that could be filled by mere Sophomores.

Juniors! Lots of romance, color, and as usual, the general uproar. It was during the Lomax administration, that we really met those Seniors when we entertained them at the reception with our "company" etiquette. A "careerer" who started his careering was none other than Clarence Wallner, who became class president. His co-workers were William Kingman, Alice Downey, and Martha McCann. Anna Fae Lewis was outstanding in scholarship. A journalist and winner of an Old English B was Iris Fish. The Girls Council and Boy Sponsors claimed Alice Downey, Ruth Scherschel, Jewel Johnson, Loris Beretta, Gerald Norcross, and Dale Miller. Emanuel Niflis won the penmanship contest. George Sears, Esther Mae Bivens, Lillian Smith, and Wayne Bruce found permanent places in musical organizations.

And now we are Seniors! After we had experienced the first thrills, we have tried to make this year our most profitable one. To Captain the ship, we chose William Kingman with Alice Downey, Ruth Roberts, and Clarence Wallner as able assistants. Although small in number, members of the class have contributed much to make it one of the best. The Stone-cutters with Dale Miller as captain, have Beretta, Goodin, Smith, and Wever, that renowned player who joined us only this year. "Heldmen" claim Downey, Gaines, Wilson, and Craig. Gilda Liva and Ruth Davis are associated with the Girl Reserve organization. Jewel Johnson and Martha McCann are both on the official staff of the Commerce Club. The International Club claims Grace Scherschel and Mary McCartney. Gerald Norcross, editor of the Pioneer has James Quinn, Harold Easton, Ruth Scherschel, Jerrol Reed, Louise Duncan, Eileen Harper, Inez Slate, Mary Katherine Craig, Idas Bluff, and Emanuel Niflis, members of the class, on his staff. Student drew Wayne Bruce, Kenneth Byers, Clyde Hodges, George Sears, Clarence Wallner, Alvin Downey, Alice Downey, Marion Owens, and Louise Duncan from the halls. Those attaining the honor roll regularly were John Graham, Gilda Liva, Anna Fae Lewis, Emanuel Niflis, Dale Miller, Esther Bluff, William Cezar, Louise Duncan, Mary Rodler, Ollie Wilson, Lillian Smith, Jerrol Reed, Ruth Scherschel, and Clyde Guthrie. New members from other schools were Carl Kasch, a prominent scholar from Kansas City; Mildred McConnell, Seymour; Paul LaHue, a basket and football man from Jasonville; Mary Voigtschild, Milwaukee; Irene Root, Arizona; and the Shawswick trio, Wever, Owens, and Ellison.

Besides all this, the whole class co-operated with Miss Mitchusson in a fruit cake and holly sale from Thanksgiving throughout the Christmas holidays.

The usual Senior stir-off at the Gillum farm, and other enjoyable outings were high points of fun-making. And then on to Class Day, and Commencement.

The Oracle Speaks

Strolling down the byways of life, one may see or chance to meet an aged person, stooped and bent, hobbling about on a hickory cane or seated upon some nearby curbstone. Upon inquiring into the matter, we find that she is a kind old woman gifted with the power of prophecy or of foretelling events of the future. One sees her now addressing a congregation of over a hundred wearers of the red and white. A cracked and very faint voice is heard, and lo! One may listen and hear what the human oracle foretells to be the future of this industrious, fun-loving group of students.

All is silent. And then the oracle speaks.

For you, Billy Kingman, I prophecy a great future. You will have your choice of two great positions, the Presidency of the United States, or that of a traveling salesman.

For Ruth Roberts, I foretell a future as a radio crooner, known as the "Water Baby", with the theme song, "River Stay Away From My Door".

Smith and Smith, Incorporated, owned and operated by brother and sister, the only firm known to the world that writes excuses for hooky students, will prosper and carry on with their good work.

Alvin and Alice Downey will go into seclusion after their high school days and become known as the "Two Authors".

Marshall Abel will be known as the "Aviator Artist".

Irene Root will achieve the honor of being President Kingman's head secretary.

Eddie Turpin and Doyle Simmons will be heard every week day night over station S W E E P. They are known as the "Janitor Boys" with their theme song, "From ashes to ashes and dust to dust", or "Dust thou art to dust returneth".

Iris Fish will be the society editor on the New York Times or the Bedford Daily Blatter.

Ollie Wilson will be the head cheese at the next disarmament conference, having studied the international arms question under Professor McFadden of Bedford High School.

Idress Craig will own and operate the only modern restaurant in Bedford with William, alias Wink Davis as his head waiter.

Paul Booker will be an international lecturer on his travels in various parts of the world.

Dale Miller will live very happily with his wife, and three children named "Red", "Red", and "Red", respectively.

Billy Hartman will be mayor of Bedford with Eileen Harper as clerk and Herschel Leahy as Chief of Police.

Loris Beretta will be coach of Bedford's basketball team with Luther (Lunk) Goodin as assistant coach.

Bob Lenz and Roberta Allen will be light-house keepers.

Zulene Callahan will teach ladies how to retain that school girl complexion.

Floyd Wever and Harold Smith will be successful farmers on a large scale.

Ruth Scherschel, Grace Scherschel, Agnes Scherschel, and Edward Scherschel will write text books for high school students.

Stanley Hughes, Dick Baker, Butch Green, and Carl Howell will own and operate a toy shop. Toys sold to high school students in particular.

G. K. Chesterton will have nothing on Clarence Wallner.

Edna St. Vincent Millay will be Ruth Davis' assistant.

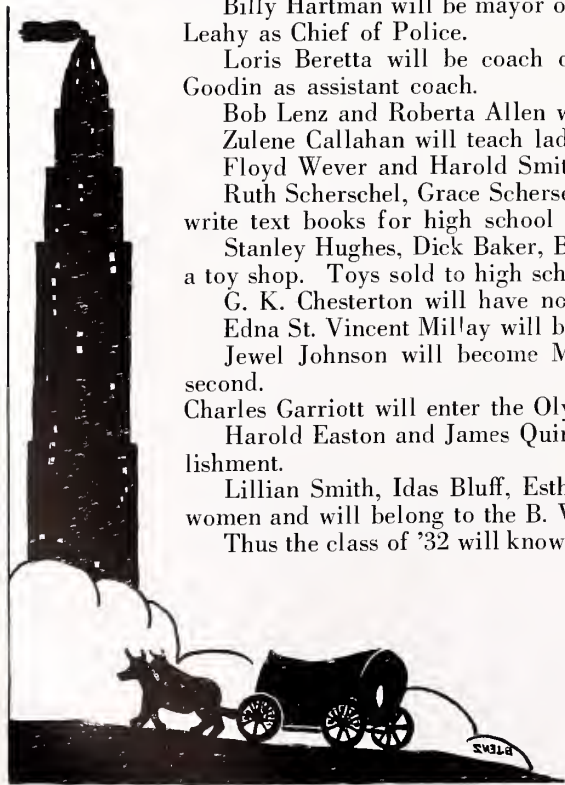

Jewel Johnson will become Miss America with Marion Owens running a close second.

Charles Garriott will enter the Olympic high jump events.

Harold Easton and James Quinn are to own the Quinn-Easton Undertaking Establishment.

Lillian Smith, Idas Bluff, Esther Bivens, and Elsie Bowman will be big business women and will belong to the B. W. P. C.

Thus the class of '32 will know what to expect of the future; the oracle has spoken.

Class Will

We, the prosperous and ultra-intelligent class of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, being of sound mind and body and out from under the influence of the faculty, do hereby set our hand and finger-prints to this immortal document, for the distribution of our coveted possessions and idiosyncracies as shall be hereby indicated.

George Sears leaves his irresistible "Gertrude" for Russell Hall, his pal.

Kenneth Byers gives his dreaded insomnia to any member of the Junior Class.

Wayne Bruce leaves his capricious ways to Daniel Sherwood.

Helen Fiddler wants Frances Edmands to have her grown up ways. She thinks Frances needs them.

Bob Hays hates to do it, but he leaves his ability to entertain Miss Lomax to Bernard Parham. Rah! Yea! Parham.

Gladys Pinkston leaves her courteous ways to Mary Dusard.

Clyde Hodges leaves his blue sweater for the Freshies and Sophomores to scrap over.

Charles Hall leaves his Hamlet to Dwight Perkins.

Carl Kasch believes he can carry his knack for answering questions without preparation away. It's just genius.

William McHolland, being a scotchman, has decided to take everything with him.

"Bill" Cezar has decided to divide his height with Eugene Bloyd. He still thinks he will be a head taller.

Frances Bates would leave her beautiful disposition to the Juniors, but she is afraid to trust them with it.

Gerald Norcross leaves his sedate manner to his brother Charles.

Evelyn Wicker leaves her winning smile to Dorothy Prevo. She hates to part with it, however.

Jerrold Reed leaves his dramatic ability to his brother Alfred.

Louise Duncan leaves her fondness for the opposite sex to some needy Sophomore.

A new book, "Four Year Pals", published by McCann, McCartney, Downey, and Craig, is to be left to any four girls so desiring.

Helen Hubbard will give particulars in learning to type and how to keep books.

Gertrude Ellison will even give her books to anyone asking for them—now's your chance, freshmen, you may be Seniors, sometime, you know.

And then Cleo Parish says "Don't let your lessons worry you—have some fun".

Earnest Weir prefers to be remembered kindly, at the least.

Leonard Fields, Frances Clark, Pearl Clubb and William Davis can't leave anything. We wonder if they are Scots.

Helen Evans, Norma Fleetwood, Mabel Francisco and Orville Buzzaird leave their desire to make "A's" in history to any four persons desiring it.

Esther Bluff, Mary Frances Gaines, Mary Esther Fletcher and Mildred Hubbard want their Junior girl friends to have some of their scholastic ability.

Clifford Haley, Harold Howell, Paul LaHue, David Miller, Emanuel Niflis and Nyman Wykoff give B. H. S. to next year's freshies.

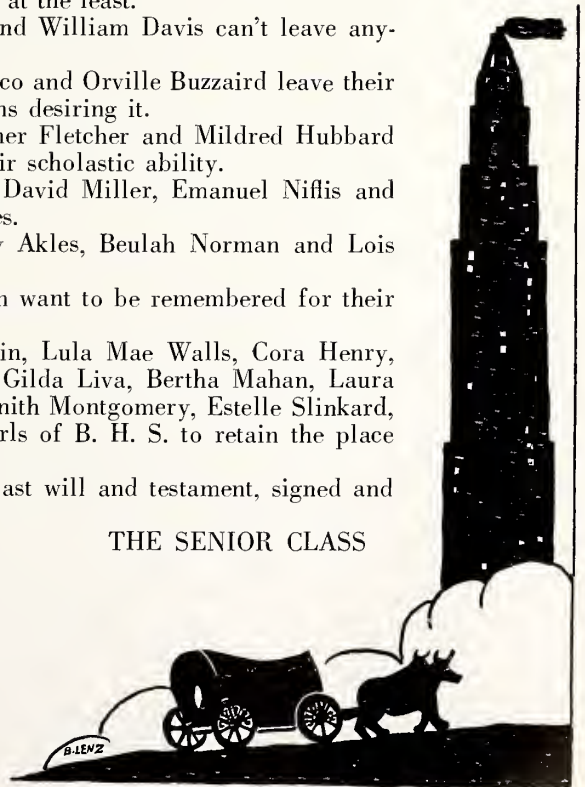

Mary Voightschild, Mildred McConnell, Mary Akles, Beulah Norman and Lois Hobson keep their blonde loveliness.

Kenneth Gaines, Clyde Guthrie and Jack Griffin want to be remembered for their good behavior while in B. H. S.

Agnes Moore, Ruth Tumey, Jessie May Turpin, Lula Mae Walls, Cora Henry, Helen Jackson, Audrey Leahy, Anna Fae Lewis, Gilda Liva, Bertha Mahan, Laura May, Christina McCracken, Margaret McPike, Zennith Montgomery, Estelle Slinkard, Inez Slate and Mary Rodler plead with future girls of B. H. S. to retain the place which the women have held in the institution.

We, the Class of 1932, declare this to be our last will and testament, signed and sealed.

Commerce Club

During the first ten years of its existence, the Commerce Club has become firmly established as an aid to those intending to enter the business world. The club was organized in the fall of 1922 for the declared purpose of acquainting students with the profession in which they intend to continue.

The past year the club has had monthly educational and entertaining meetings. The helpful, impressive, valuable talks, given by outstanding men of the city which the members of the club have been privileged to hear were: "Law", Clarence Donovan; "Advertising", Mr. W. E. Crawford, Advertising Manager of the Times; "Banking" Mr. Sowders; "Successful Corporations", Mr. O. E. Campbell; "Stone Industry", Mr. T. Pentzer. Besides the business talks, the members have become intimately acquainted with industries of Bedford by visiting a bank, laundry, creamery, stone mill, stone quarry, newspaper office, the Reliance Factory, and Day and Carter's Funeral Home.

At the last monthly meeting of the semester the annual spelling match was held, in which any student of the school could participate. The program of the year was climaxed with a Hard Times Party.

The club has had a very profitable year under the supervision of the sponsors, Miss Dodt and Miss Rodarmel. The officers of the organization are: Jewel Johnson, President; Charles Norcross, Vice-President; Martha McCann, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Literary Club

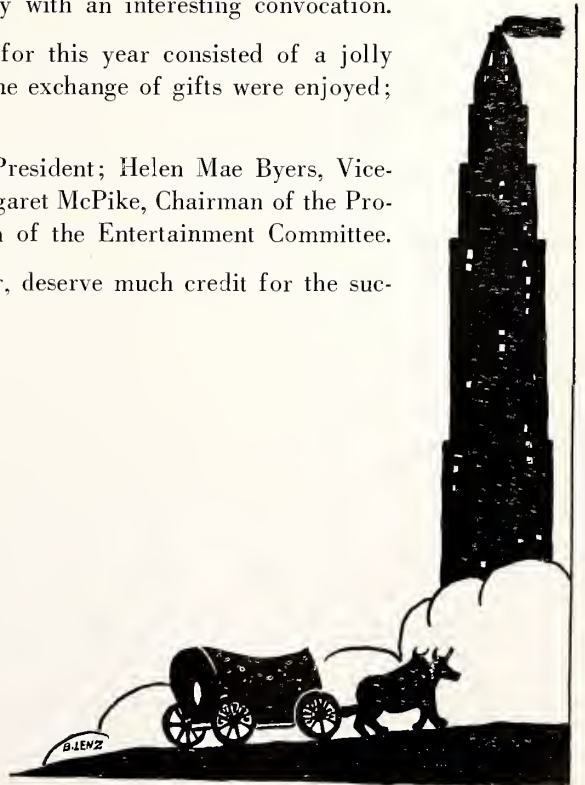

The Literary Club, which is sponsored by Miss Durrenberger, is made up of those students who are appreciative of good present day literature. The organization has grown steadily during the ten years of its existence until this year it has attained a membership of fifty, the maximum number of members. Membership is open to all.

The meetings of the club are held on the second Thursday of each month. The programs for this year were given over to the study of short stories and magazine articles, with its very own Washington program in February. The work of this year also included the entertaining of the student body with an interesting convocation.

The outstanding events of the social activity for this year consisted of a jolly Christmas party, at which time story telling and the exchange of gifts were enjoyed; and a delightful outdoor frolic in the spring.

The officers of the club are: Elsie Bowman, President; Helen Mae Byers, Vice-President; Mary Rodler, Secretary-Treasurer; Margaret McPike, Chairman of the Program Committee; Zennith Montgomery, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

These officers, together with Miss Durrenberger, deserve much credit for the successful year of '32.

The History Club

This year America is celebrating the bicentennial of Washington's birth. It has been the purpose of the History Club to keep the memory of the Father of our Country fresh. It has done this by presenting a colonial play portraying the difference of life then and now.

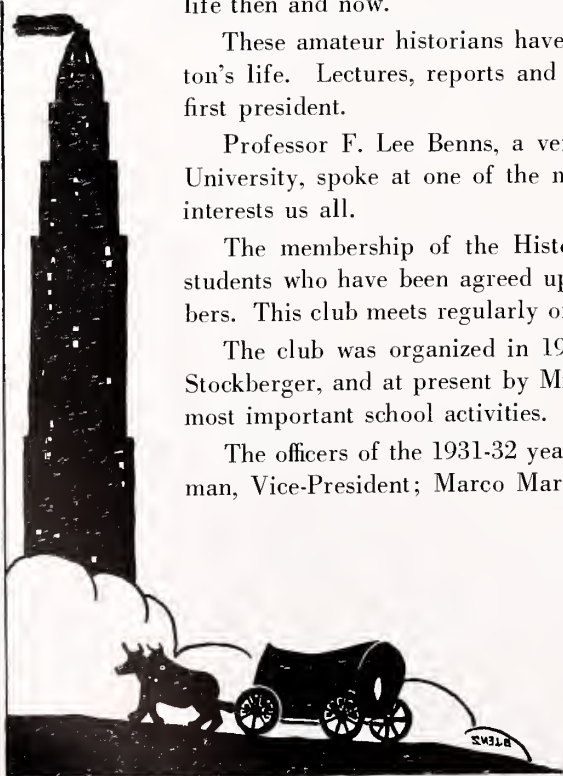

These amateur historians have followed a definite plan in the study of Washington's life. Lectures, reports and discussions have added to the appreciation of the first president.

Professor F. Lee Benns, a very distinguished speaker and professor at Indiana University, spoke at one of the meetings on the disarmament question, a topic that interests us all.

The membership of the History Club is limited to Junior and Senior history students who have been agreed upon by a committee selected from last year's members. This club meets regularly on the last Monday of each month.

The club was organized in 1924. It has been sponsored by Miss Friedly, Miss Stockberger, and at present by Miss Lomax. It has grown until it is now one of the most important school activities.

The officers of the 1931-32 year are: Daniel Sherwood, President; William Hartman, Vice-President; Marco Marchetti, Secretary-Treasurer.

International Club

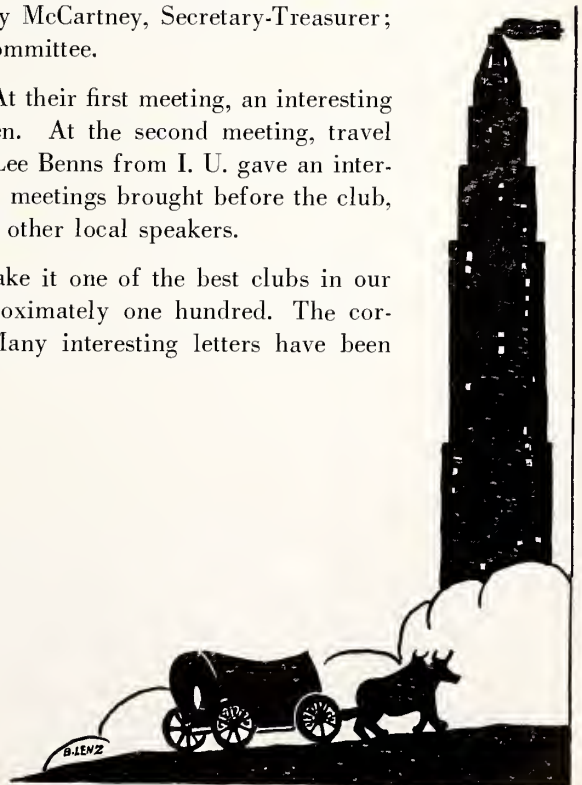

A new organization has been created in our high school. It seems as if the elders have failed to establish world peace, so they called on the young people to help further this great cause. The first step was to organize an International Club.

The purpose of this club is to foster world peace: their method is by corresponding and making friends with the youth of foreign countries.

This club is ably sponsored by the leaders, Mr. McFadden and Mr. Krausbeck. Those to have the honor of being the first officers of this club are, Grace Scherschel, President; Clarence Wallner, Vice-President; Mary McCartney, Secretary-Treasurer; and Anna Louise Erwin, Chairman of Program Committee.

The club has had many interesting programs. At their first meeting, an interesting talk on Russia was given by Rev. Wm. McFadden. At the second meeting, travel pictures were enjoyed, and at the third, Professor Lee Benns from I. U. gave an interesting talk on the Disarmament Conference. Later meetings brought before the club, Dr. Charles Emery, speaking on China-Japan, and other local speakers.

It is the aim of the officers and sponsors to make it one of the best clubs in our school, and now it boasts a membership of approximately one hundred. The correspondence is the chief feature of the club. Many interesting letters have been received from abroad.

Latin Clubs

The Junior and Senior Latin Clubs have as their sponsors Misses Painter, Bowen, and Roberts.

Any student who is taking or has taken Latin is eligible for membership. The average membership of the entire club is about one hundred.

The officers of the Junior Club are: Evelyn Wray, President; Alice Mae Reeve, Secretary; Mary Katherine Campbell, Treasurer; June Zettergren, Chairman of the Program Committee; Aureleo Liva, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

The Senior Latin Club officers are: Moneta Davis, President; Billy Easton, Secretary; Evalou Wray, Treasurer; Mary Eleanor Fields, Chairman of Entertainment Committee.

The purpose of the clubs is to promote an interest in various phases of Latin study outside the regular high school curriculum, and to afford an opportunity for acquiring a knowledge of Roman life and customs.

Some of the topics for study this year have been; Ancient and Modern Rome, Mythology, Roman Holidays, and Derivatives.

Girl Reserves

Organized since 1924, the Girl Reserves has been one of the most instructive and beneficial of all the school clubs.

The creed of the Girl Reserves pledges the members to be gracious in manner, impartial in judgment, ready for service, loyal to friends, reaching towards the best, earnest in purpose, seeing the beautiful, eager for knowledge, reverent to God, victorious over self, ever dependable, and sincere at all times.

Several campaigns have been launched by the sponsors and the members this year. The purpose of these campaigns has been to make money to use for social service work.

The meetings of both Blue and Silver Triangles, are held on the first and third Tuesday in each month. Interesting programs are planned to catch and hold the interest of the members, also carrying out the theme—Code.

The officers of the Silver Triangle are as follows: Cytha Jackson, President; Mary Black, Vice-President; Kathleen Murray, Secretary; and Mary Stuckey, Treasurer.

The officers of the Blue Triangle are: Gilda Liva, President; Mary Frances Gaines, Vice-President; Martha McCann, Secretary; and Ruth Davis, Treasurer.

Knights of the Drawing Board

Another interesting club of Bedford High School is the Knights of the Drawing Board, which meets the second Monday of each month.

All students who have taken or are taking stone work are eligible to become members of this club.

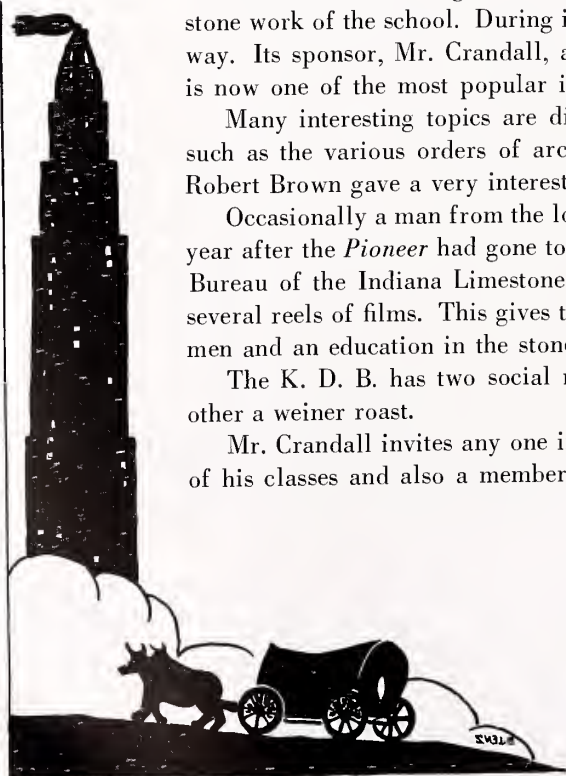

The K. D. B. was organized in 1925 for the purpose of creating an interest in the stone work of the school. During its seven years of existence it has gained much headway. Its sponsor, Mr. Crandall, and officers have done their duty well and the club is now one of the most popular in school.

Many interesting topics are discussed, at the regular meetings, by the members, such as the various orders of architecture and famous architects. On one occasion Robert Brown gave a very interesting and worthwhile talk on the formation of stone.

Occasionally a man from the local stone industry is invited to talk to the club. Last year after the Pioneer had gone to press J. L. Mann, formerly of the Architect Service Bureau of the Indiana Limestone Company, gave a talk which was accompanied by several reels of films. This gives the boys an inside view of the work and life of stone men and an education in the stone field that they would not get otherwise.

The K. D. B. has two social meetings annually, one a Halloween party and the other a weiner roast.

Mr. Crandall invites any one interested in stone work to become a member of one of his classes and also a member of the Knights of the Drawing Board.

French Club

The French Club, sponsored by Miss Brooks, holds its meetings on the second Monday of each month at which time the sponsor and officers endeavor to interest the club in various fields of French activity that they could not get in class. Some of these are studies of French life, customs, and songs.

Any one who is taking or has taken French is eligible to become a member of this club.

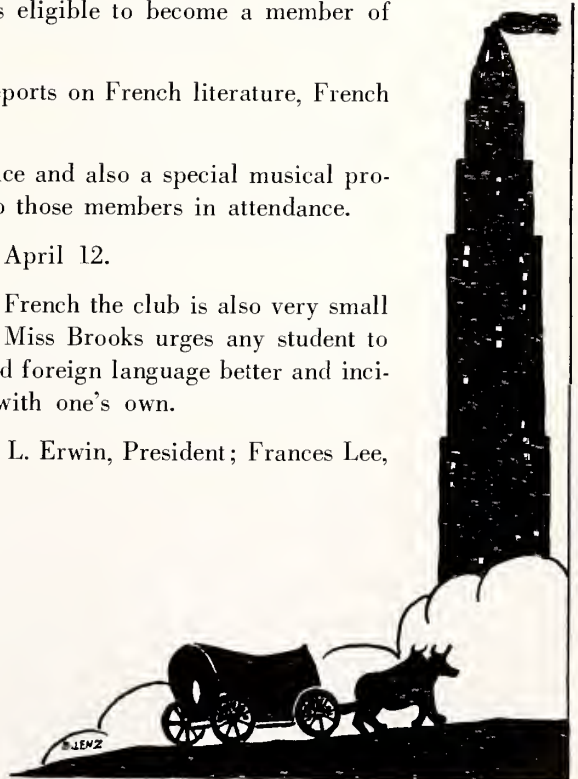

The meetings this year have been devoted to reports on French literature, French work and French art.

The club held its own George Washington service and also a special musical program which was very interesting and instructive to those members in attendance.

A tea for the High School faculty was given April 12.

Due to the small number the students who take French the club is also very small but nevertheless it is very interesting and active. Miss Brooks urges any student to enroll in a course that will enable one to understand foreign language better and incidentally to become more thoroughly acquainted with one's own.

The officers of the club for 1931-1932 are Anna L. Erwin, President; Frances Lee, Vice-President; Jennie Johnson, Secretary.

Hi-Y

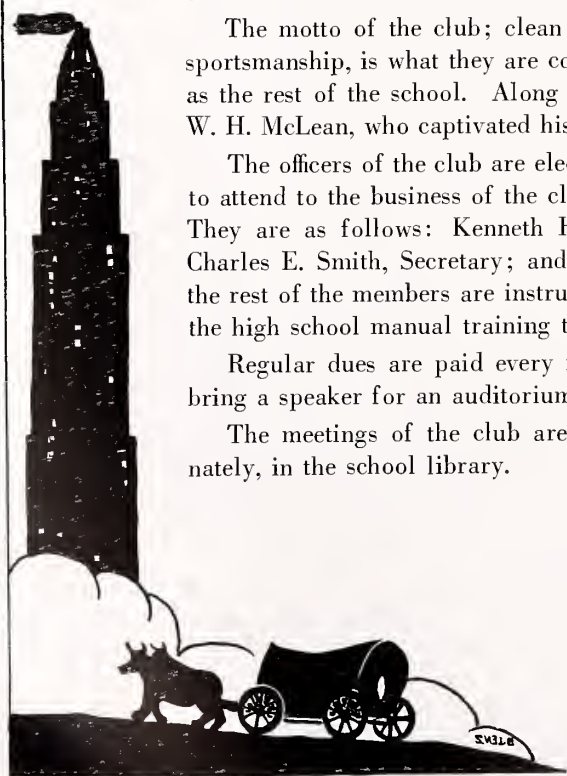

The Hi-Y Club of Bedford High School was organized for the purpose of creating and maintaining throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The motto of the club; clean speech, clean living, clean scholarship, and clean sportsmanship, is what they are continually striving to possess for themselves as well as the rest of the school. Along this line, the Hi-Y brought to the auditorium Rev. W. H. McLean, who captivated his audience with his address on Friendship.

The officers of the club are elected by the members twice a year to lead as well as to attend to the business of the club throughout the nine months of our school year. They are as follows: Kenneth Howell, President; Alvin Downey, Vice-President; Charles E. Smith, Secretary; and Wayne Bruce, Treasurer. These boys as well as the rest of the members are instructed in their activities by the sponsor, Mr. Stuckey, the high school manual training teacher.

Regular dues are paid every month into the treasury and the money is used to bring a speaker for an auditorium, or in some other helpful public movement.

The meetings of the club are held every Monday afternoon and evening alternately, in the school library.

Art Club

The Art Club, sponsored by Miss Ross, holds its regular meetings every other week for the purpose of studying the life and work of noted American artists. Each year the Art Club has special projects for its members. This year each member is allowed to make his own selection from a varied list of crafts. Some decided to make soap carvings, other charcoal drawings, pastels, oils, pencil sketches, all over patterns, linoleum blocks, sign paintings and wall hangings.

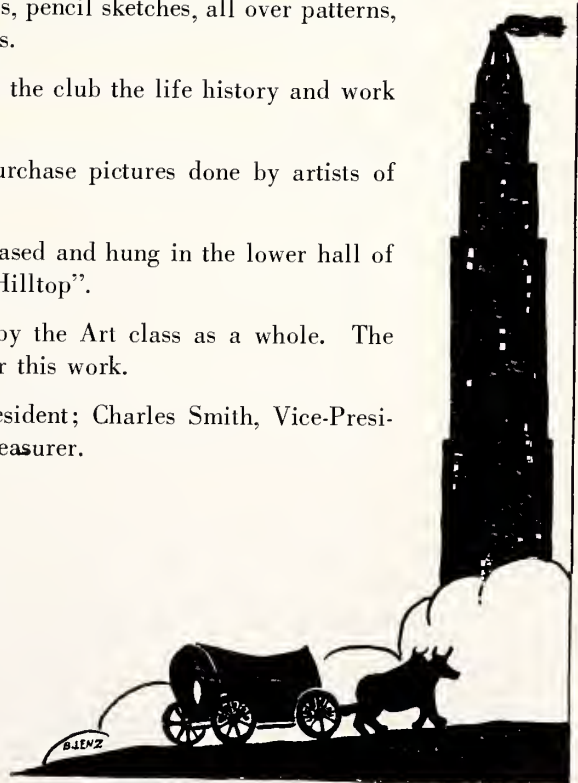

Each member is required to find and report to the club the life history and work of former Indiana artists.

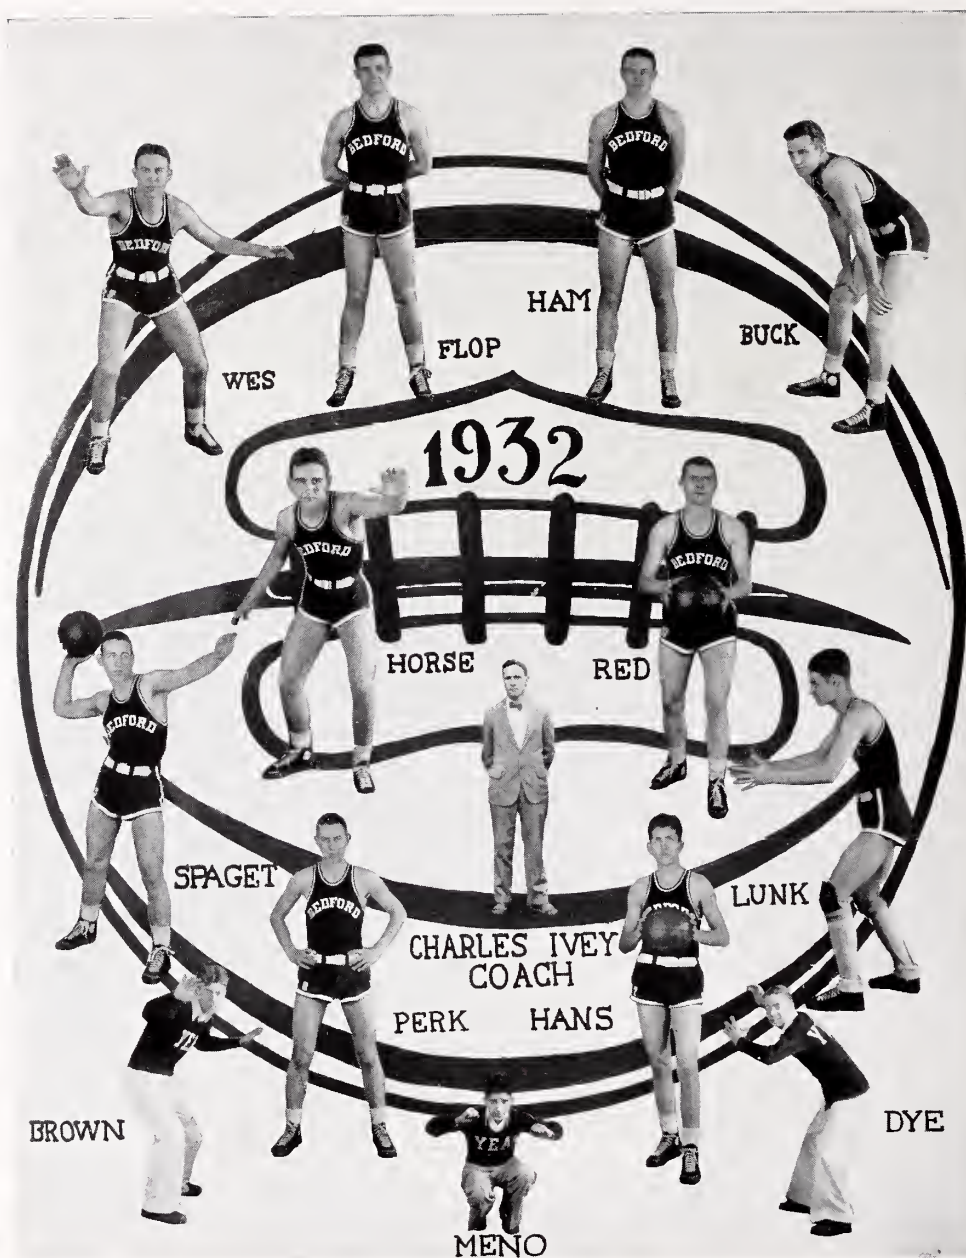

One of the main features of the club is to purchase pictures done by artists of Indiana.

Two pictures painted by Carl Graf were purchased and hung in the lower hall of the school. They are "Working" and "From the Hilltop".

The art work of the 1932 Pioneer was done by the Art class as a whole. The Pioneer Staff wishes to express its appreciation for this work.

The officers of the club are Iantha Shook, President; Charles Smith, Vice-President; Mildred Bridwell, Secretary; June Babb, Treasurer.

DALE MILLER, Forward—As Captain and one of the outstanding players, Dale shows up as plain as his nickname "Red."

LUTHER GOODIN, Center—In height, "Lunk" ranks among the first. Lunk is well known for those "last minute comebacks."

HORACE RICHARDSON, Center—Sheik of our basketball team. As a center Horace ranks exceedingly well and shows great promise for the coming season.

DWIGHT PERKINS, Guard—Once he gets started nothing can stop him. Known as "Dead-eye-Dick" on the long shots.

FLOYD WEVER, Forward—The "Shawswick Flash" moves faster on the hardwood than the eye can follow. His speed and height will be greatly missed.

LORIS BERETTA, Guard—An all around athlete, outstanding in the history of B. H. S. He is especially popular with fans for his skill and sportsmanship.

LYLE SMITH, Guard—Better known as "Flop", has shown great merit on the floor this season for his dependability and smiling sportsmanship.

WESLEY HEATH, Guard—Although "Wes" is but a sophomore, he has shown great promise. Many say that he is another Beretta.

HANSEL FLYNN, Forward—Always in the thickest of the fight. Hansel has shown remarkable improvement during the past season.

BERNARD PARHAM, Forward—Athlete and Junior Class president, known to fans as "Ham", has made a name for himself as a steady dependable forward.

FRONT ROW: Reynolds, Yeskie, O'Brien, Blackwell, Black, Tumey, Goodin, Don Davis, Dale Davis.

Second Team Basketball

The call for second team basketball was answered by a willing group. Composed mostly of Juniors and Sophomores, our second team has made an excellent record. With their steady workouts and splendid training, they have shown great improvement throughout the season. One can easily see that only with a good coach could any team have done so well. Due to the skillful directions of Coach Bayne Freeman, former star of Franklin College, our seconds have defeated many of their opponents. Out of their fifteen scheduled games they won twelve, losing only three besides the tournament. Although they put up a hard battle, they were defeated in closely contested games by Franklin, Bloomington, and Martinsville. Among the squad is a group of Juniors and Sophomores who are to play a vital part in basketball for the coming season. Some are expected to advance to the first team.

Basketball Leagues

The Boys League under the capable leadership of Mr. Turmail, Mr. Banta, Mr. Kay, and Mr. Krausbeck, has become one of Bedford High School's most popular activities.

In order that small boys as well as husky ones might have equal chance to win honors, the teams are divided into Giants and Midgets. The winning teams, "C" of the Giants with Harold Smith as captain, and "Z" of the Midgets with Winfred Hubbard as captain, received a silver loving cup with their names inscribed upon it. Eight boys received the red and white circular monogram for the best, mental attitude, playing ability, and sportsmanship.

The Girls Leagues, directed by Miss Colby, is carried on much the same as the boys.

The teams are divided into six Reds and six Whites. The White Team No. 2, winning the highest percentage of their games, with Margaret Woodsmall as captain received a silver loving cup with the names of its members engraved upon it. The girls showing the best sportsmanship received the red and white circular monogram.

OLLIE WILSON, Captain—145 lbs.

Ollie has left a splendid record in B. H. S. which will be hard to equal.

HAROLD BOLDING, Second in State—125 lbs.

Harold has done well in upholding the outstanding "Bolding record" of Bedford High.

IDRESS CRAIG, Third in State—Heavyweight

Known as "Fat", has done a good job holding down all heavy weights.

PAUL LA HUE—155 lbs.

Paul made good, his first year. He has done well with the 155 lbs.

ALVIN DOWNEY—135 lbs.

Better known as "Chic" and outstanding in the wrestling field.

LOREN OLIVER—145 lbs.

Loren has shown great improvement and is known as a good sport.

ERMEL FENDER—100 lbs.

"Curley", baby of the team is small but mighty. Curley handles the 100 lbs. well.

FRANK DUNCAN, Third in State—175 lbs.

"Dunk", a good wrestler and a square shooter, has won the favor of many fans.

NORWOOD ROSS—115 lbs.

Norwood has proven himself worthy to the team. More is expected of him in 1933.

GEORGE MENO—108 lbs.

George's first year on the team, but he promises more for the coming season.

DEXTER CALVIN—165 lbs.

Dexter is well known for his smiling sportsmanship. Dexter has done his share for the season.

OLLIE MANN—108 lbs.

His first year on the team, yet next year he is expected to be a state winner.

HAROLD WYKOFF—135 lbs.

"Scottie" to his friends, shows great promise for the coming season.

Scheduled for four matches, our wrestling squad was defeated two times by Bloomington's squad. With the two matches held with Muncie, our team tied them for the first match, but lost the second. With the material that Coach Held will have for this coming fall, he is expected to produce the 1933 state champions.

Although our squad did not do so well this past year, they are fully determined to redeem themselves in the coming season.

“Stone City Student”

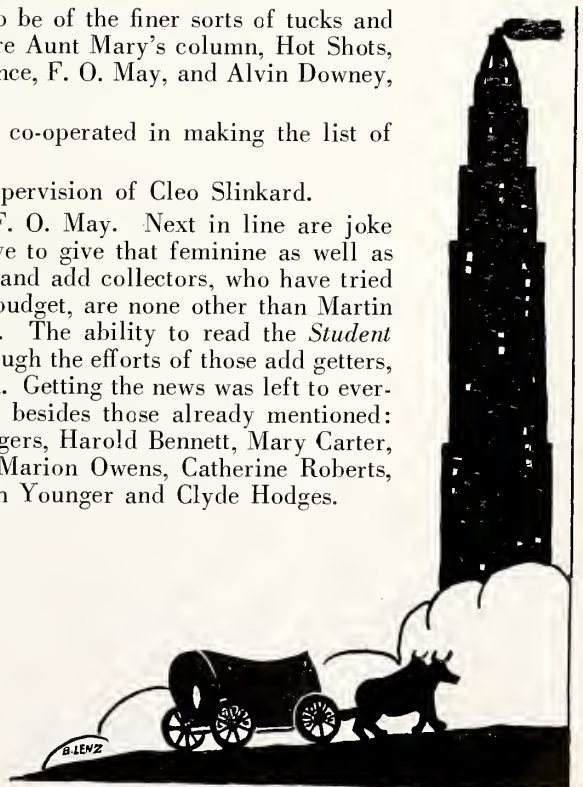

Having turned designers and dressmakers, it seems this year's journalism class, alias the editors of the Stone City Student, have put in many little frills and tucks, stuck in pleats here and there to edit a Student worthy of the name and in keeping with a limited budget. By publishing four small issues, three twelve page and one sixteen page, they succeeded.

Some of the new features which have proven to be of the finer sorts of tucks and pleats along with the usual Wise and Otherwise are Aunt Mary's column, Hot Shots, Champions All and On the Mat edited by Mary Pence, F. O. May, and Alvin Downey, respectively.

Add managers and Roll Room representatives co-operated in making the list of Student subscriptions 500.

The exchange list, totaling 57, is under the supervision of Cleo Slinkard.

The chief designer, alias make up editor, is F. O. May. Next in line are joke editors, Louise Duncan and Mary Pence who strive to give that feminine as well as personal touch to the Student. Business manager and add collectors, who have tried to purchase only the best and yet stay within the budget, are none other than Martin McDonald, Betty Rainbolt and Margaret Houston. The ability to read the Student and find when and how and where to buy came through the efforts of those add getters, Wayne Bruce, Alvin Downey and Martin McDonald. Getting the news was left to ever-ready reporters, with noses for news. They were, besides those already mentioned: Kenneth Byers and J. W. Shaver, circulation managers, Harold Bennett, Mary Carter, Alice Downey, Mildred Maick, Marian Mitchell, Marion Owens, Catherine Roberts, Angela Scherschel, George Sears, Bob Lively, Ruth Younger and Clyde Hodges.

“Pioneer”

The Pioneer, the name that makes every friend of B. H. S. sit up and take notice, was founded in 1907. Since that time it has won many State and National honors and prizes. It has always been recognized as one of the outstanding annuals of the state.

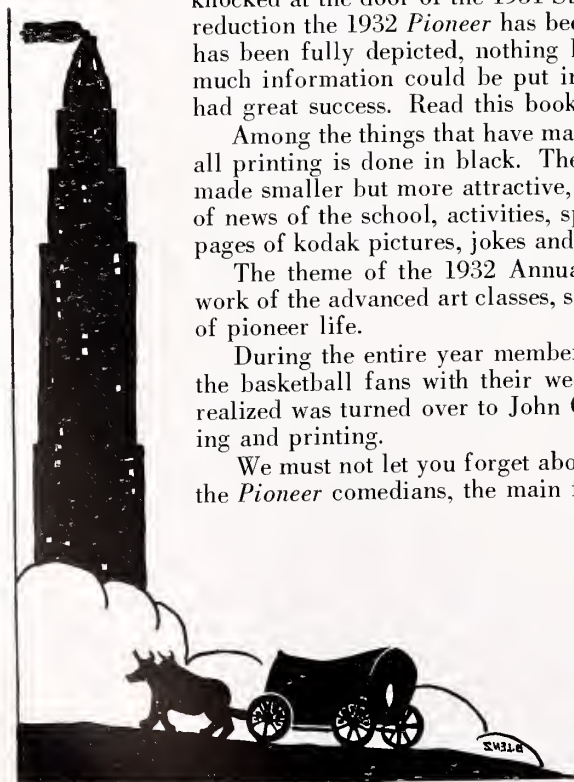

A 60% reduction in Budget was necessary this year. Hard Times, after having knocked at the door of the 1931 Staff, was not to be denied entrance. Due to this huge reduction the 1932 Pioneer has been reduced in size but not in quality. Every activity has been fully depicted, nothing left out. Even the staff can not understand how so much information could be put in such an inexpensive book. Even so, the staff has had great success. Read this book for proof.

Among the things that have made such an inexpensive book possible is the fact that all printing is done in black. There are very few colored pages, division panels are made smaller but more attractive, the blank spaces fewer; every page is chucked full of news of the school, activities, sports and pleasures of the H. S. student along with pages of kodak pictures, jokes and adds.

The theme of the 1932 Annual, the Pioneer, was made possible by the diligent work of the advanced art classes, supervised by Miss Ross, by their silhouette drawings of pioneer life.

During the entire year members, of the Pioneer staff worked faithfully supplying the basketball fans with their weekly eskimo pies and other delicacies. The money realized was turned over to John Castello, our cashier, toward the expense of engraving and printing.

We must not let you forget about that good time you had at the assembly put on by the Pioneer comedians, the main feature which was a one act comedy, “Bill’s Wife.”

Reading from left to right:

SEATED: Charles Hall, Charles Norcross, Margaret McClellan, Robert Plummer, J. W. Shaver, Dale Dowling, Harold Bennett, Gus Psaltis.

STANDING: Gerald Norcross, Mr. Grider.

Varsity Debate

The Varsity Debaters, coached by Mr. Grider, had a very successful season in spite of their failure to down Seymour in the contest for District honors.

Their only other defeat was handed them by North Vernon in an early season debate. No doubt the team, with a little more practice could have turned the tide.

The teams were composed of Robert Plummer, Capt., Margaret McClellan, Charles Norcross, affirmative; Harold Bennett, Capt., Dale Dowling, J. W. Shaver, Negative. The alternates were Charles Hall, Gerald Norcross and Gus Psaltis.

For the first time in the history of B. H. S. the alternates were asked to take part. Gerald Norcross substituted for Margaret McClellan in the North Vernon Debate, due to an appendicitis operation, and Charles Hall took the place of Charles Norcross and helped defeat the Mitchell Negative.

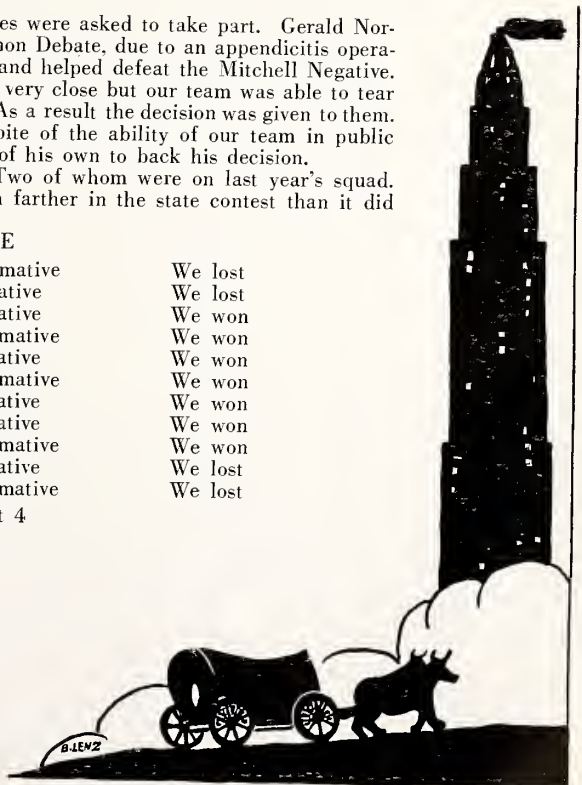

The Sectional contest with Bloomington promised to be very close but our team was able to tear down the opponents arguments and to build up their own. As a result the decision was given to them.

The District decision was given to the opponents in spite of the ability of our team in public speaking and refutation. No doubt the judge had reasons of his own to back his decision.

The team this year was made up of underclassmen. Two of whom were on last year's squad. It is expected to have a team next year that will go much farther in the state contest than it did this year.

"APPLESAUCE" — APRIL 1931

A Successful Calamity

"A Successful Calamity", a two act comedy by Clare Kummer, was successfully portrayed on May 12, 1932, by students of B. H. S., trained by Miss Mitchusson.

The play centers around Henry Wilton, a tired New York business man who ever longs to spend a quiet evening at home. His second wife, Emmie, who is always planning to go out in the evening is very much perturbed to hear that her husband is ruined financially. Bearing with pathetic patience the life of dinners, theatres, and operas that bore him, Wilton finally seeks to go out of business, when his faithful butler, Connors, and all his friends rally around him and he finds domestic salvation. Meanwhile his daughter Marguerite and his son Eddie carry on romantic love affairs with their fiances, Clarence and Julia. A portrait painter, Pietro Rafaelo, Dr. Broodie, and John Belden, family friends, add much merriment to the play. Albertine, the maid, very effectively supports Marguerite and her mother.

One year ago May 12, Miss Mitchusson's proteges produced "Applesauce" in the same pleasing manner as this year's play. It was a three-act comedy portraying American life, slightly exaggerated. Ma and Pa Robinson (Harriet Jenkins and Morris Jacobs), steered the family life while their daughter Hazel (Anna M. Guthrie) fell deeply in love with her two suitors. Bill McAllister (William Easton), a college boy whose sole purpose was to spread applesauce over the world; Rollo Jenkins (Wm. Horn), her business man lover who wished to marry her; Jennie Baldwin (Helen Pentzer) was always telling her doleful tales and giving advice to the family; and Matt McAllister (John Meno) helped his nephew through school and helped him get a good start after his marriage with Hazel.

League Debates

Many public speakers, orators, and debaters of B. H. S. have received their early training in the Debate League, which is sponsored by Mr. Grider and Miss Gunn.

Five members of this year's league are on the girls or varsity debate squad. Others have won other contests of oratory.

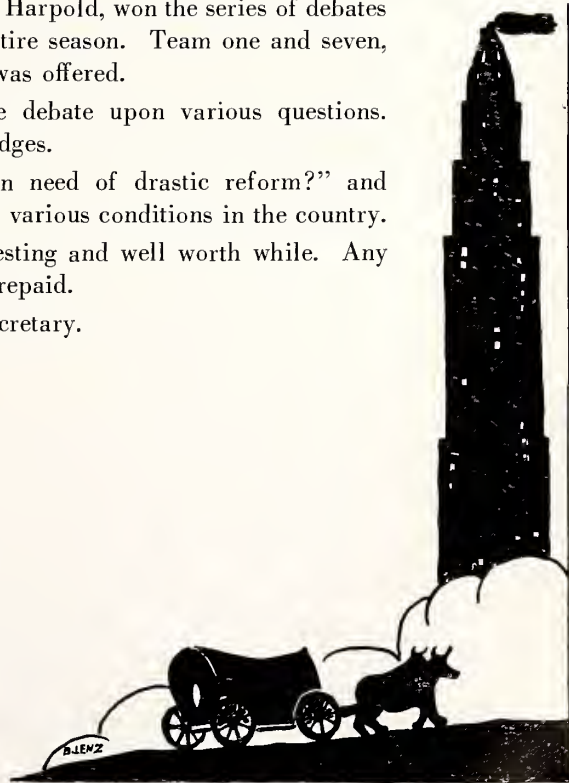

Team six composed of Charles Hall and Charles Harpold, won the series of debates in the League. They lost no debates during the entire season. Team one and seven, however, ran them a close race for the cup which was offered.

Each Wednesday various teams of the league debate upon various questions. Members of the varsity debate and others act as judges.

"Is the present national financial condition in need of drastic reform?" and other such questions enable the debaters to learn of various conditions in the country.

Debating, be it league or varsity, is very interesting and well worth while. Any student who goes out for debating will be amply repaid.

The League's only officer is Marian Mitchell, Secretary.

Reading from left to right:

Henrietta Hutton, Kathleen Murray, Frances Edmands, Betty Rainbolt, Miss Gunn, Lora June Owens, Josephine Spear, Icel Jackman, Marian Mitchell.

Girl's Debate Team

The Girl's Debate Team, coached by Miss Helen Gunn, had only two scheduled debates this season.

On May 6, the affirmative team, composed of Lora June Owens (captain), Icel Jackman, Kathleen Murray and Marian Mitchell as alternate, went to Terre Haute to compete with the Wiley high school negative team. On the same day the Bedford negative team debated the Shortridge affirmative team in the high school auditorium. The members of the local negative team were Betty Rainbolt (captain), Josephine Spear, Frances Edmands and Henrietta Hutton as alternate.

1932 marked the sixth year that Bedford high school had organized a girl's debate team.

This was the second year of the three year contract for the girl's league.

The subject for debate this year was "Resolved: That a Federal Department of Education be established with a Secretary in the Presidents cabinet."

Oratory and Reading

Each year B. H. S. enters two students in the South Central Oratorical and Reading Contest. In 1931, Gerald Asbell and Morris Jacobs represented Bedford.

Morris Jacobs had as the topic of his reading "His Soul Goes Marching On." For several years Morris had been trying for this honor and in his last year of school he succeeded. Not only did he represent Bedford, but he placed first in the South Central Contest. Other students may profit by Morris' example, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

R. PLUMMER

Three students who tried out for South Central Oratory were disappointed, but not Jerry. Gerald Asbell won the locals at Bedford, and at Vincennes he made a fine showing. B. H. S. will never forget Gerald and his oration "High Tide."

"Our Constitution: Its Development and Significance," is the oration that went through the Local, County, and District contest successfully. Harold Bennett, its author, promises to go far in the public speaking field.

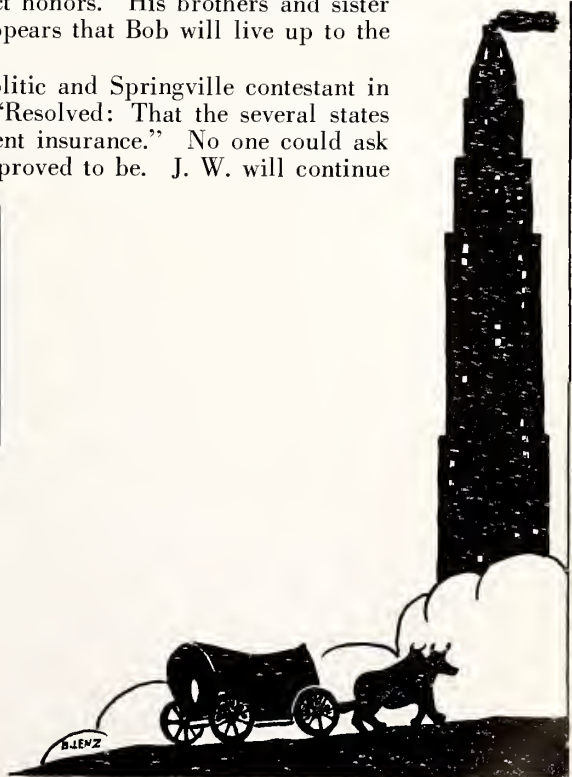

H. BENNETT

Robert Plummer, a Junior, defeated all others in the local, and won the right to send his constitutional essay to compete for district honors. His brothers and sister always have come through with flying colors, it appears that Bob will live up to the expectations both in the essay and speaking field.

March 24, 1932, J. W. Shaver defeated the Oolitic and Springville contestant in Public Discussion. J. W. had the affirmative of "Resolved: That the several states should adopt a system of compulsory unemployment insurance." No one could ask for a better or closer contest than the county one proved to be. J. W. will continue through succeeding contests.

J. W. SHAVER

Orchestra

One of the most industrious activities of Bedford High School is the orchestra. Without this activity no school can prosper. The orchestra plays for all the high school operettas, and helps out at auditoriums with special music, and at pep sessions by playing the school songs.

Students taking this activity will receive two credits a year.

The orchestra is composed of the following students under the able director, Mr. Leland Armstrong:

CORNETS—Warren Glover, Esther Bivens, Austin McClellan, Howard Bickham, Dwight Emmert.

TROMBONES—Frances Lee, Charles Garriott, Frank Crawford, Garland Keck.

FRENCH HORNS—Albert Smith, Royce Jones.

CLARINETS—Philip Hatfield, John Kasch, Cecil Turpin, Joy Turpin, Robert Truman, William George, Robert Goodin, James Meglemere, Russell Hall, George Sears.

SAXAPHONES—Alto. William Hudson, Charles Aiken, Carl Lindsay. Melody C. Lillian Smith.

BASSOON—Carleton Culmer.

VIOLINS—Daniel Sherwood, Anna Louise Erwin, Helen Hopper, James Tirey, Eugene Henderson, Doris Carter, Anna Gabbert, Gretchan Maich, Mettie Phillips, Ellen Taylor, Robert Glimpse, Edward Edwards, Albert Whitted, Kenneth Williams.

BASS—Harry Inman, Billy Emerson, Clyde Guthrie.

DRUM—Carl Howell.

FLUTE—Helen Sellars.

CELLO—Philip Hatfield.

Old English "B's" are awarded the boy or girl playing four years in the orchestra.

Band

The band, under the leadership of Mr. Armstrong, has been outstanding this year in supporting Bedford High School activities in all ways possible.

The band has played at the ten basketball games that Bedford played at home, and during the two sessions of the regional tournament.

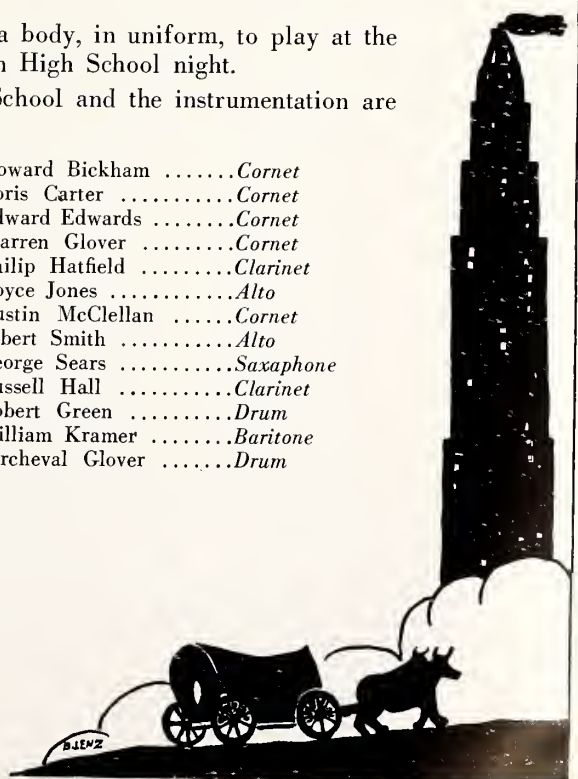

The band also gave its support to the two benefit ball games that were played in the Bedford gym. They marched from the school to the business district to advertise the event. On another occasion the band marched from the school to the business district with the student body advertising a show at the Indiana theatre, which had reduced its price for the Bedford students.

The band also gave its support and went as a body, in uniform, to play at the Central Tabernacle during the revival services, on High School night.

MUST LEISURE DISAPPEAR?

The press of modern living demands much—So much in fact, that sometimes we despair of ever again having much time to ourselves.

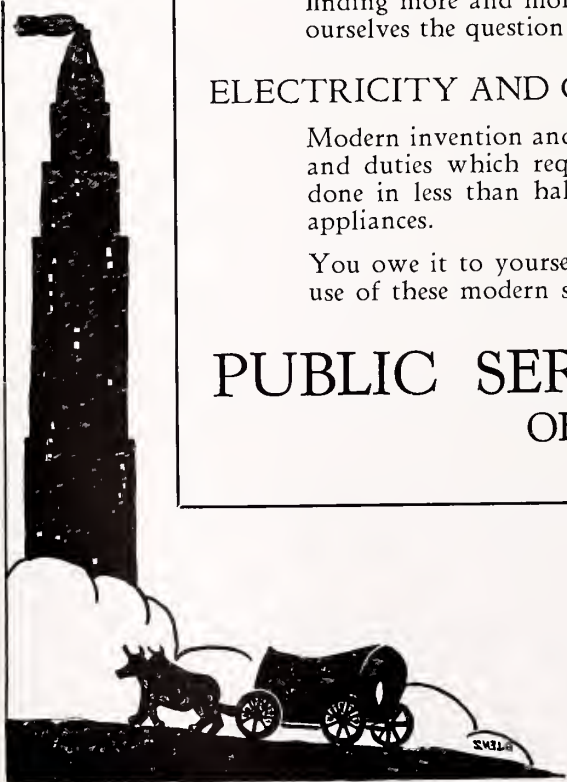

Driven by exacting duties, burdened with a multitude of tasks, finding more and more demands upon our time, at length we ask ourselves the question: "Must leisure go?"

ELECTRICITY AND GAS ANSWER NO

Modern invention and industry have provided the way out. Tasks and duties which required hours a few years ago, today can be done in less than half the time with the aid of gas and electric appliances.

You owe it to yourself and to others to make the fullest possible use of these modern servants in your home and in your business.

Jokes

Miss Maish—"Want soup?"
Mr. Freeman—"Is it good soup?"
Miss Maish—"Sure, fourteen carrot."

Miss Lomax (to Charles E. who is misbehaving)—"Charles, sit down in front."
Charles E.—"I can't, I'm not made that way."

Bob Dean—"What are you doing with your socks on wrong side out?"
Bill Kingman—"My feet got hot and I turned the hose on them."

The Guide—"That is a skyscraper."
Alice Downey—"Oh, my! I'd love to see it work."

Mr. Armstrong—"Quick, doctor—do something! I was playing a mouth organ and swallowed it."

Doctor—"Calm yourself young man, be thankful you were not playing the piano."

Mr. King—"My son, who is that wild woman you have been running around with?"

Vincent K.—"Aw, dad, she's not wild, she's tame. Anyone can pet her."

They call her "Checkers" because she always jumps when you make a bad move.

Alma S.—"I hear Mary has a propensity for petting."

Jewell J.—"She has no such thing, it is just an old fashioned davenport like ours."

Rita L.—"Are you going to be busy tonight?"
Martha S.—"I don't know. This is my first date with him."

Marie S.—"There's a salesman outside with a moustache."

Mr. Mourer—"Tell him I've got a moustache."

"Madam," said the polite sailor who was showing Miss Brooks over the ship, "this is the quarter deck."

Miss Brooks—"Oh, how fascinating, and could you show me what you have for fifty cents?"

The "rising generation" is that which retires about the time the retiring generation rises.

Bud K.—"Fleas are black, I tell you."

Bob H.—"Not either; 'cause it says, 'Mary had a little lamb, it's fleas was white as snow.'"

Harry S.—"Are you going to the fair?"

Alvin D.—"What fair?"

Harry S.—"The paper says, 'fair here today and tomorrow.'"

Teacher—"Who crossed the Delaware?"
Snitz—"Beretta dribbled across it."

Martha Stuckey, seating herself between two much engrossed boys, exclaimed "A rose between two thorns."
"No," retorted one "say rather a tongue sandwich."

J. B. Cantrell—"Why so gloomy?"
F. Goldsboro—"I can't get out of debt."
J. B. Cantrell—"Huh! I can't even get in."

Loris B.—"I can't see why you refuse to marry me just because I ask for just one kiss."

Bud C.—"Well, any modern fellow who would ask for a kiss isn't aggressive enough to make a good living."

Mr. Grider—"Does your wife grieve because she threw over a wealthy man to marry you?"

Mr. Held—"She started to grieve, but I cured her in short order."

Mr. Grider—"How on earth?"

Mr. Held—"I started right in grieving with her and I grieved harder and longer than she did."

Mr. Turmail—"Do you give a guarantee with this hair restorer?"

Barber—"Guarantee? We give a comb."

Mr. Mourer—"What do you do after school?"

Jim Richardson—"I serve I. W. W."

Mr. Mourer—"Who's that?"

Jim Richardson—"The motorist who is seeking Information, Wind, and Water."

John Castello—"Dearest I must marry you."

Mary M.—"Have you seen my mother?"

John—"Yes, many times, but I love you just the same."

Mr. Kay—"Carl, can you tell me one of the uses of cow hide?"

Carl K.—"Yes sir, it keeps the cow together."

Lunk Goodin—"Dale's wife seems to be very economical."

Flop S.—"Why?"

Lunk Goodin—"Oh, I notice that Dale just wears one darned thing after another."

Miss Mitchusson—"Is pants singular or plural?"

Shorty F.—"After much thought, 'Singular at the top but plural at the bottom.'"

A vote of the boys in school showed that all but two believed that the man should be the head of the house.

These two are married don't you know?

Dale Miller—"My wife isn't happy when I am out of her sight."

Dick Baker—"Helen doesn't trust me either."
